Weekly Communication

Dear Parents

We have had a fantastic week at Jerry Clay. I do hope you are all looking at our live daily newsletter on Twitter- @JCAWakefield where we are constantly posting the learning/ experiences that are happening across our academy. We are proud of what our children are achieving and really want you to see all of the fantastic work that is going on across the academy.

Reading is the gateway to the world!

The reading draw continues to go fantastically well with our children. I would like to personally thank you all for the support you are giving with this, as we have seen an increase in reading again in the last 2 weeks. We have seen a huge increase in parental support for reading and would like to see this rise even more! We love nothing more than hearing our children talking about the books they are reading at home.

Disco

Next week will be our PTA disco on Thursday 13th February. As usual, tickets will be available on the night for £2, which includes unlimited drinks.

This is to ensure that we have planned for the appropriate staffing ratios. We understand that from time-to-time there will be emergency situations; however, where possible 24 hours
